GENERAL INFORMATION

INDIVIDUAL THERAPY: Sessions last 60 minutes. Clients are asked to give at least 24 hours' notice of non-attendance, otherwise they are charged the usual fee. Fees are usually collected at the end of each session, although if you wish to pay at the end of the month, that is fine too. If I am able to reschedule your appointment for the same week, I will not charge you for the cancelled session.

GROUP PSYCHOTHERAPY: Sessions last 90 minutes. As with individual psychotherapy, clients are asked to give at least 24 hours' notice of non-attendance, otherwise they are charged. Fees are payable at the end of each month.

HOLIDAYS: I usually take Spring (2 weeks), August (4 weeks) and Winter (2 weeks) breaks.

LEAVING: For clients in on-going psychotherapy, individual or group, I ask for a reasonable period of notice (one session minimum) of your intention to leave.
